

whether he wants to assert claims against individual investors and to assert such claims in a proceeding ancillary to the receivership action, together with claims for prejudgment attachment.

The Court, therefore, orders that its prior orders freezing the accounts of individual investors are vacated to that extent effective noon, August 3, 2009. The prior orders otherwise remain in force. This Order does not affect accounts frozen because the owners are former senior management of Stanford companies, former financial advisors who appear to owe amounts to the Estate, or customers who have not taken any action to repay an outstanding loan or debit balance owed to the Estate.

Signed June 29, 2009.

David C. Godbey
United States District Judge